THE ABAS LAW FOUNDATION 2021 SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Thank you for your interest in the ABAS Law Foundation Scholarship Program. This document provides all of the information an applicant needs about the scholarship program, how to apply, and how to seek additional information if necessary.

The deadline for your application is Friday, March 5, 2021, at 5:00 p.m.

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

The ABAS Law Foundation has been awarding law scholarships since soon after it was established in 1997 as an Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3) educational and charitable nonprofit organization. The Foundation awards scholarships to recognize law students and recent law school graduates who possess extraordinary skills, desire, and potential to serve and lead the greater Sacramento area Asian Pacific Islander community. The Foundation took over the scholarship program from the Asian/Pacific Bar Association of Sacramento (“ABAS”), a Sacramento County Bar Association affiliate comprised of attorneys, judges, and law students.

The Foundation funds its scholarship program through its annual fall Golf Tournament, some of the educational programs in its Speaker Series, and generous giving from the community.

The Foundation anticipates awarding between $10,000 and $20,000 in scholarships each year, and individual awards typically range from up to $5,000. The Foundation typically presents the scholarship awards at an awards reception and posts information about the recipients on its website. For information on 2020’s award recipients, please see:

ELIGIBILITY

To be considered for a scholarship, you must either:

- (i) be currently enrolled and in good standing at a Sacramento area law school; or
- (ii) currently reside in the Sacramento area and have graduated from law school in 2020.

CRITERIA

The Foundation awards scholarships based on the following criteria:

- (i) potential for community service and leadership in the Asian-Pacific Islander (“API”) community;
- (ii) academic achievement; and
- (iii) financial need.

Generally, community service and leadership potential are accorded great weight and can be shown in various ways, including past activities serving API or other communities and current involvement with API organizations. But some scholarships are more heavily weighted on terms of financial need than others. You can show financial need in various ways, such as your academic year budget, eligibility for financial aid from your school, or lack of other financial support for school-related expenses.

APPLICATION MATERIALS

You must submit all of the following information and materials in a single PDF file labeled with your name and the year of the scholarship (“Cris Lee_ABASLF 2021”):

- a. Eligibility evidence. A copy of your current law school registration or law school diploma, as applicable, will suffice.
- b. A personal statement, not to exceed three double-spaced pages in length. This statement must include your name, mailing address, e-mail address, and telephone number. You must sign and date your statement. Your statement may also contain any relevant information to give context to your application. Generally, the Foundation's Scholarship Committee is most interested in employment experience and ambitions, community and campus activities, and unique life experiences. If you feel you have overcome any form of hardship (financial, educational, physical, etc.) you are encouraged to discuss the experience in your statement. Feel free to be creative and innovative in your approach to the personal statement.
- c. Current resume.
- d. Current law school transcripts (either official or unofficial).
- e. If you believe that you are in financial need: Financial information, including, at minimum, an itemization of financial resources (including other scholarships received) and expenses for the nine-month academic period.
- f. One or more references, including each reference’s name and contact information, and a brief description of your relationship to each reference.

APPLICATION EVALUATION

The Scholarship Committee will evaluate each scholarship application package and select the scholarship recipients in its sole discretion, bound only by the purposes of the scholarship program and scholarship criteria. To facilitate the decision-making process, the Scholarship Committee may, in its discretion, request a personal or Zoom interview with any or all scholarship applicants.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Please submit your application materials via e-mail no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, March 5, 2021, to scholarships@abaslawfoundation.org. Application materials submitted after the deadline may be considered at the discretion of the Scholarship Committee.
